

Dentons appoints Marien Glerum as Benelux Chief Managing Officer

July 2, 2019

Global law firm Dentons has appointed Marien Glerum as Benelux Managing Officer, responsible for the management and financial oversight of the Amsterdam, Brussels and Luxembourg offices. He will also work closely with the Country Managing Partners – Wendela Raas in the Netherlands, Frederic Feyten in Luxembourg, and Edward Borovikov in Belgium - on strategic planning and collaboration and synergies among the three offices.

Glerum joined Dentons' legacy firm Boekel in 2010, where he served as finance director and later as CEO. When Boekel combined with Dentons in 2017, he was appointed Netherlands Chief Managing Officer.

Marien Glerum commented on his appointment, "Just as Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg have benefitted from their economic union for almost 70 years, I see huge potential for the further integration of Dentons' teams in these three countries. Our combined capabilities will be immense - and combined with our unmatched global footprint - will make Dentons a force to be reckoned with in the Benelux region."

"Over the last six years, Dentons' revenue in continental Europe and Central Asia has nearly doubled and we have grown to 26 offices across the continent. We have grown not only in scale but in sophistication, and so we need the support of professional, experienced managers, who can work closely with our partners to manage our operations and performance," said Tomasz Dabrowski, Europe CEO at Dentons. "Under Marien's leadership, our Amsterdam office has become the fastest growing law firm in the Netherlands, and I am confident that he will have continued success in further developing our practice across the Benelux region."
