

Overview

Few industries are as complex and internationally focused as the financial sector. Financial institutions around the world are subject to increasing regulatory pressure and public scrutiny.

Whether you are looking to for advice on intricate cross-border deals, regulatory compliance, or litigation support, Dentons' Financial Institutions group of more than 500 lawyers worldwide has the knowledge you are looking for.

Our Financial Institutions team in Amsterdam brings together lawyers in banking and finance, insurance, insolvency and real estate, who can support you on:

- National and cross-border acquisition financing
- Real estate and project financing
- Structured finance transactions
- Financial regulatory advisory
- Banking and financial institutions litigation
- Reorganization, restructuring and insolvency
